PROFESSIONAL PROGRAM APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS - 2012

STUDENT STATUS FOR APPLICATION PROCESS

Applications described below are to be filed IN CONJUNCTION with the Department of Allied Health Sciences' "Application for Admission to Professional Programs" and sent to the address indicated – DO NOT SEND THE FOLLOWING FORMS TO THE DEPARTMENT OF ALLIED HEALTH SCIENCES.

Current UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS at the University of Connecticut:

If you are a current undergraduate matriculated student at UConn, whether at Storrs or any of the regional campuses, you need only file the Department of Allied Health Sciences application to be reviewed for admission. No additional application is required for admission. However, if you are a matriculated student at a REGIONAL CAMPUS and you are admitted to your program of choice, you must submit a Campus Change Request Form to the Registrar's Office on the Storrs Campus. Check with the Assistant to the Dean's Office at your Regional Campus for application deadline details.

READMITTED STUDENTS: If you have ever attended the University of Connecticut as an undergraduate matriculated student (whether or not you received an undergraduate degree), you are classified as a READMITTED STUDENT. Students seeking readmission must first be admissible to the university before an offer of admission can be extended by the Department of Allied Health Sciences. Therefore, you must file an application for readmission with the Office of Student Services and Advocacy. While the readmission deadline for Fall 2012 is July 1, 2012 (August 1, 2012 for Regional Campuses), readmission applications must be on file in the Office of Student Services and Advocacy by February 1, 2012 to be considered for admission. Additional information and application may be obtained from:

University of Connecticut
Office of Student Services & Advocacy
Wilbur Cross Building, Rm. 203
233 Glenbrook Rd, Unit 4062
Storrs, CT, 06269

www.ossa.uconn.edu (click on "Forms and Applications")

NOTE: Readmitted students are NOT required to file a University of Connecticut Application for Admission.

TRANSFER STUDENTS: If you have never attended the University of Connecticut as an undergraduate matriculated student, but have completed course work at other two (2) or four (4) year accredited colleges or universities, you are classified as a TRANSFER STUDENT. Transfer students must first be admissible to the university before an offer of admission can be extended by the Department of Allied Health Sciences. Therefore, you must file a University of Connecticut Application for Admission as a transfer student with the University Transfer Admissions Office. While the university admission deadline for transfer students for Fall 2012 is April 1, 2012, university applications must be on file in the Transfer Admissions Office by February 1, 2012 to be considered for admission. Additional information and application may be obtained from:

NOTE: Readmitted students are NOT required to file a University of Connecticut Application for Admission.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS: If you are an International Student, please refer to the special instructions for application in the University Admissions Application. International applicants must meet international student requirements for admission to the University of Connecticut. International students must first be admissible to the university and be cleared through the Department of International Services and Programs (DISP) before an offer of admission can be extended by the Department of Allied Health Sciences. Therefore, you must file a University of Connecticut Application for Admission as an International student with the University Transfer Admissions Office. The University of Connecticut Application submission deadline with the Transfer Admissions Office is February 1, 2012 for a Fall 2012 admission. It is recommended that prospective students initiate application procedures one year prior to intended start of studies. Additional information may be obtained from:

DEPARTMENT OF ALLIED HEALTH SCIENCES ALTERNATE ROUTE OPTIONS

A) NON-DEGREE DIETETICS OPTION: If you have a bachelor's degree from the University of Connecticut or any regionally accredited college or university in the United States, you are eligible for our non-degree alternate route to complete our Coordinated Program in Dietetics. You need only file the Department of Allied Health Sciences' application. NO ADDITIONAL APPLICATION NEED BE FILED. Application to the University of Connecticut Transfer Admissions Office is NOT necessary for a non-degree Dietetics student. Preference is given to degree seeking (matriculating) Dietetics students.

B) OFF-CYCLE DIAGNOSTIC GENETIC SCIENCES OPTION: If you have completed ALL the required prerequisite courses for the Diagnostic Genetic Sciences program (listed on page 10) and will have completed a minimum of seventy-five (75) credits prior to beginning the program, you are eligible for the "off-cycle" class in Diagnostic Genetic Sciences. Additionally, it is strongly recommended that you have completed one or more of the junior/senior requirements prior to beginning the program. Completion of the "off-cycle" course requirements may involve at least one additional summer session to satisfy all upper division course work. Off-cycle students spend only two semesters on campus instead of three, plus the 6-month clinical semester. If you are a CURRENT UNDERGRADUATE matriculated student at UConn, whether at Storrs or any of the regional campuses, you need only file a Department of Allied Health Sciences' admission application and supporting documents. If you have never attended the University of Connecticut as an undergraduate matriculated student, but have completed course work at other two (2) or four (4) year accredited colleges or universities, you are classified as a TRANSFER STUDENT. Refer to the instructions outlined for transfer students on pages 7 & 8.

C) OFF-CYCLE MEDICAL LABORATORY SCIENCES OPTION: If you have completed most, but not ALL, of the required prerequisite courses for the Medical Laboratory Sciences program (listed on page 10) you may be eligible for the "off-cycle" class in Medical Laboratory Sciences. Completion of the "off-cycle" course requirements will involve at least one additional semester to satisfy all upper division course work and remaining pre-requisite coursework. If you are a CURRENT UNDERGRADUATE matriculated student at UConn, whether at Storrs or any of the regional campuses, you need only file a Department of Allied Health Sciences' admission application and supporting documents. If you have never attended the University of Connecticut as an undergraduate matriculated student, but have completed course work at other two (2) or four (4) year accredited colleges or universities, you are classified as a TRANSFER STUDENT. Refer to the instructions outlined for transfer students on pages 7 & 8.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING THE APPLICATION(S)

Application process varies depending on your Student Status for Application:

If you are a: University of Connecticut Undergraduate (Storrs and Regional Campuses), Readmitted Student or Non-Degree Dietetics Applicant: follow directions in PART I (below).

If you are a: Transfer or International Applicant: follow directions in PART II (page 7).

PART I: UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT UNDERGRADUATE (STORRS AND REGIONAL CAMPUSES), READMITTED STUDENT OR NON-DEGREE DIETETICS APPLICANT

1. WHEN TO APPLY:

Students are required to submit a Department of Allied Health Sciences “Application for Admission to Professional Programs” by February 1, after completion of at least three (3) semesters of study including the required prerequisites for the program of choice. Each year, review of applications will begin on February 1 and continue until the class is filled. Allied Health Sciences applications become the confidential property of the department and cannot be returned. The Department of Allied Health Sciences WILL NOT provide copies of the application or references. Retain copies for your own files.

2. HOW TO APPLY:

A. APPLICATION: Applicants must complete the Department of Allied Health Sciences’ “Application for Admission to Professional Programs - 2012.” Only application forms for the year 2012 will be accepted. Applications from previous years will not be reviewed for admission. Applications will NOT be reviewed unless ALL information is complete.

B. COLLEGE TRANSCRIPTS: Applicants must submit documentary evidence of all collegiate work completed through the Fall Semester 2011 (including if possible spring 2012 course registration).

Unofficial UConn transcript: If you have completed course work at UConn as a matriculated or non-degree student, or if you are applying as a Readmit Student, you MUST submit a UConn transcript. An unofficial UConn transcript can be obtained by accessing your Peoplesoft account. INDIVIDUAL SEMESTER GRADE SHEETS ARE NOT ACCEPTABLE.

Official transcripts: Applicants (regardless of application status) who completed course work at institutions other than the University of Connecticut MUST submit official transcripts from each school attended so that we have a grade for those courses. Please DO NOT request copies of transcripts from the University Admissions Office; as they are their “working copies”. Copies of transcripts are not acceptable to the Department of Allied Health Sciences. Applications will not be considered without such documentation.

C. RECOMMENDATIONS (form required): Applicants to the Professional programs in the Department of Allied Health Sciences must supply the admissions committee with at least two (2) but no more than three (3) letters of recommendation on the application recommendation form. One recommendation MUST be an academic reference (faculty/instructor). They should be sealed in an envelope and signed across the seal by the evaluator. It is preferable, when possible, to include sealed letters of recommendation with your application. If this is not possible, they should be sent to the address on page 6. Applicants to multiple programs need only supply two (2) recommendations.

D. PERSONAL STATEMENT: Applicants are required to submit a 500 word personal statement outlining their career goals as they relate to the program of application. Applicants applying to more than one program are required to submit a personal statement for each program they seek admission to.

E. There is NO application fee for the Department of Allied Health Sciences' application.

3. WHERE TO APPLY:

SUBMISSION: Applications must be submitted no later than February 1, 2012. All supporting materials (transcripts, recommendations, personal statement, etc.) must be received in our office no later than February 1, 2012.

PART II: INSTRUCTIONS FOR TRANSFER and INTERNATIONAL* APPLICANTS

*International Applicants must also meet International admission requirements. Information regarding requirements can be found at: <http://www.admissions.uconn.edu/apply/international.php>.

1. WHEN TO APPLY:

The Department of Allied Health Sciences' application deadline is February 1st, regardless of the fact that the University transfer application deadline is April 1st. Therefore, applicants must have their completed University transfer application on file in the Transfer Admissions Office by February 1st.

Review of applications will begin on February 1 and continue until the class is filled. Department of Allied Health Sciences' applications become the confidential property of the department and cannot be returned. The Department of Allied Health Sciences WILL NOT provide copies of the application or recommendations. Retain copies for your own files. Applications will NOT be reviewed unless ALL information is complete.

2. HOW TO APPLY:

Application for transfer and international students is a TWO STEP process: STEP I: Application to the University of Connecticut; Applicants must FIRST be admissible to the University before an offer of admissions can be extended by the Department of Allied Health Sciences. STEP II: Application to the Department of Allied Health Sciences. You are establishing two separate and distinct admission files with these two steps.

Materials submitted either to the Transfer Admissions Office (Step I) or to the Department of Allied Health Sciences (Step II) CANNOT be shared. Students MUST send appropriate materials to EACH office. The Department of Allied Health Sciences reviews applications to the department and makes its recommendation to the University's Transfer Admissions Office. The University's Transfer Admissions Office has final authority to grant or not grant admission to the University.

STEP I: HOW TO APPLY TO THE UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT:

Transfer and International students who have never attended the University of Connecticut as a matriculated undergraduate student must complete the University Application for Admission. The University Application may be obtained on-line through the Transfer Admissions website. Print versions of the University Application must be sent to the address below NOT to the Department of Allied Health Sciences. Transfer and International applicants will not be considered for program admission without a University Application for Admission on file. The University Application along with the application fee must be submitted no later than February 1st to:

University of Connecticut
Transfer Admissions Office
2131 Hillside Road, Unit 3088
Storrs, CT 06269-3088

NOTE: An official high school record and official college transcripts including Fall 2011 grades must be sent directly from your high school and each college attended to the Transfer Admissions Office at the address above. Unofficial copies will not be accepted. Applicants will not be considered for admission without this documentation.

STEP II: HOW TO APPLY TO THE DEPARTMENT OF ALLIED HEALTH SCIENCES:

A. APPLICATION: Transfer and International applicants to the Department of Allied Health Sciences MUST submit the Department of Allied Health Sciences' "Application for Admission to Professional Programs - 2012." along with supporting documentation no later than February 1st. Only applications for the year 2012 will be accepted. Applications from previous years will not be reviewed for admission.

B. COLLEGE TRANSCRIPTS: Applicants must submit documentary evidence of ALL collegiate work through the Fall semester 2011 (including if possible spring 2012 course registration). Applications will not be considered without up to date college transcripts.

Official Transcript: Applicants must provide an official transcript for all institutions attended. This transcript MUST be sent to the Department of Allied Health Sciences. Photocopies will not be accepted.

International Transcript: Applicants with education outside of the U.S. or Canada must submit transcripts of all college coursework to a transcript evaluation agency for translation and evaluation for equivalency. International applicants should allow a lead time of six months or more to complete all requirements of entry into the United States.

C. RECOMMENDATIONS (form required): Applicants must supply the admissions committee with at least two (2) but no more than three (3) letters of recommendation on the application recommendation form. One recommendation MUST be an academic reference (faculty/instructor). They should be sealed in an envelope then signed across the seal by the evaluator. It is preferable, when possible, to include sealed letters of recommendation with your application. If this is not possible, they should be sent to the address below. Applicants to multiple programs need only supply two (2) recommendations.

D. PERSONAL STATEMENT: Applicants are required to submit a 500 word personal statement outlining their career goals as they relate to the program of application. Applicants applying to more than one program are required to submit a personal statement for each program they seek admission to.

E. There is NO application fee for the Department of Allied Health Sciences' application.

3. WHERE TO APPLY: (students must complete both admission processes):

SUBMISSION: Applications must be submitted no later than February 1, 2012. All supporting materials (transcripts, recommendations, personal statement, etc.) must be received in our office no later than February 1, 2012.

APPLICATION FOR PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS - 2012

General Admission Statement

The Department of Allied Health Sciences offers junior/senior professional programs in Diagnostic Genetic Sciences, Dietetics, and Medical Laboratory Sciences. Students are eligible for admission to these professional programs after (a) completion of at least three semesters of full-time study; (b) registration for the fourth semester; and (c) completion of, or registration in, all prerequisite coursework for the program of choice. Students must attain a minimum of sixty (60) credits before matriculating in the program. Course work for students admitted to the Diagnostic Genetic Sciences, Dietetics, or Medical Laboratory Sciences programs will begin in Fall 2012.

NOTE: Transfer Applicants: If you have NOT completed all of the prerequisite course work necessary to be eligible for admission to these programs (see page 10 for each program's prerequisites), but you would like to be considered for admission to the University of Connecticut to finish this course work, complete the University Application as follows: Write "CANR" (College of Agriculture and Natural Resources) on the "School/College" line and "AHS" (Allied Health Sciences) on the "Major" line as a major for admission.

Program of Application: (IMPORTANT: please read all instructions prior to completing this section)

Applicants may apply to more than one program provided they meet the admission requirements for each. Program requirements differ (refer to page 10), so please make sure you meet all requirements prior to indicating a choice. Applications that do not meet the admission criteria for a program will not be reviewed.

- 1) I wish to be considered (first choice) for admission to the program listed on the line below in the Department of Allied Health Sciences.

Indicate program of first choice: _____

- 2) Additional program consideration: If you are not interested in another program, please leave this section blank. However, if you would like to be considered for admission to another program, please prioritize your choice(s) (e.g. 2nd, 3rd, etc.) next to the appropriate program. Applicants who wish to be considered for multiple programs must complete all prerequisites pertinent to that program(s) as shown on page 10.

_____ Diagnostic Genetic Sciences: Cytogenetics _____ Dietetics
_____ Diagnostic Genetic Sciences: Molecular Diagnostics _____ Medical Laboratory Sciences

The Dietetics major is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation for Dietetic Education. Students in the Dietetics Coordinated Program will graduate in May of their senior year, but must also complete a 6 credit externship immediately thereafter in order to receive a verification statement certifying that all coursework and supervised practice requirements have been completed. This statement qualifies the student to sit for the national registration examination, which they must pass in order to become a Registered Dietitian. The externship entails 6 weeks (40 hours/week) of intensive supervised practice experiences. Students will register for the externship as non-degree students through the Center for Continuing Studies and will incur an additional expense.

My signature certifies that the personal and academic information given on this application is complete and accurate. Failure to disclose fully and accurately all facts relating to this application may be grounds for revocation of admission.

Student Name (Please PRINT) Student Signature Student ID # (If applicable) Date

The University of Connecticut supports all federal and state laws that promote equal opportunity and prohibit discrimination.

PREREQUISITE COURSE WORK CHECKLISTS

Below is a list of prerequisite courses required by each of the professional programs in the Department of Allied Health Sciences. You MUST complete the prerequisite course work checklist for EACH program that you have applied to on page 9. If the appropriate prerequisite course work checklist(s) are not completed below, your application will NOT be reviewed by that program.

The University of Connecticut requires that all students must complete University-wide general education requirements (applicants to the Non-degree Dietetics option described on page 4 are exempt from these requirements). To obtain information about general education university requirements, consult the University catalog which may be obtained from the Undergraduate Registrar's Office. You must have a minimum of sixty (60) credits for admission to the junior year. The minimum sixty (60) credits MUST include the individual program prerequisite work and University general education requirements (with exception of the W-in-the-major course).

NOTE: Students typically complete all program requirements (see table below) during the academic year(s) prior to admission. However, some applicants may need to utilize the summer 2012 to complete requirements or general education courses. In such cases, plans of study should be discussed with the program director prior to application. Admission may be contingent upon work completed in the summer 2012.

In the space before each course listed below, record:

MONTH & YEAR COMPLETED (i.e. 12/11) - If course has been completed at the time of application

SP - If course will be completed during Spring semester 2012

SM - If course will be completed during Summer semester 2012

Applicants to multiple programs need only supply two (2) recommendations.

7. PERSONAL STATEMENT: Applicants are required to submit a 500 word personal statement outlining their career goals as they relate to the program of application. Applicants applying to more than one program are required to submit a personal statement for each program they seek admission to.

8. TRANSCRIPTS: (Submit all transcripts that apply)

UCONN Transcript: Applicants must submit an unofficial (or official) University of Connecticut transcript if applying as a current or readmitted student.

Other Transcript: If applicable, applicants must provide an official transcript for all institutions attended regardless of applicant status. This transcript MUST be sent to the Department of Allied Health Sciences. Photocopies will not be accepted. Application is not complete without this documentation.

International Transcript: Applicants with education outside of the U.S. or Canada must submit transcripts of all coursework to a transcript evaluation agency (i.e. www.wes.org) for translation and evaluation for equivalency. International applicants should allow a lead time of six months or more to complete all requirements of entry into the United States.

9. PROVIDE ANY OTHER INFORMATION THAT YOU FEEL SHOULD BE CONSIDERED BY THE ADMISSIONS COMMITTEE (Please use only the space provided and print legibly).

If there have been any unusual occurrences in your academic background, this is the appropriate section to address them. For example, if an illness or family problem has had an adverse effect on your academic progress or success, an explanation should be offered. It is important to stress positive steps taken since that time.
